SIGNIFICANT ADDED VALUE BY UTILIZING COMBINED EXPERTISE

Two experienced actors in the Life Sciences market are working closely together to help companies achieving successful and compliant serialization of drug packaging.

The combined portfolios of IT solutions, industry know-how and consulting expertise is offering the Life Sciences market participants significant added value.

Through this partnership, Arvato Systems is strengthening its consulting expertise in the healthcare industry and, conversely, Traxeed is expanding its service portfolio to include the Arvato CSDB serialization solution. Both companies have many years of experience in delivering international implementation projects and can confidently and reliably support their customers along the entire process chain in the Life Sciences industry.

THE STRATEGIC PARTNER

ARVATO SYSTEMS

Arvato Systems uses the technology talent and expertise of over 3,000 people at more than 25 sites throughout the world. Being a part of the Arvato network and belonging to Bertelsmann, we have the unique capability to create entire value chains. In Healthcare, Arvato Systems provides its own serialization solutions covering the entire end-to-end process chain. These solutions support both individual producers and national verification systems. Arvato Systems was chosen as an official service provider by the European Medicines Verification Organization (EMVO).
